Dear High School Students:

Attached you will find fliers about two terrific summer programs for high school students interested in learning more about business:

Terry Business Academy – June 1-7, 2014 and July 6-12, 2014

Terry Accounting Residency Program – June 25-28, 2014

The Terry College of Business hosts these programs on the UGA campus free of charge to all students who earn admission. We will select approximately 160 rising juniors or seniors who apply by the March 28, 2014 deadline to participate.

We seek your help in distributing this summer program information to your students through all available channels, including bulletin boards, school newsletters, public address announcements, as well as internal communications with teachers, counselors and staff.

The Terry College is able to provide these programs through generous support provided by Deloitte, the largest professional services firm in the United States. We sincerely appreciate your help in promoting these wonderful learning opportunities to motivated students who are curious about future careers in business, accounting, and entrepreneurship.

If you would like the program information provided in an electronic format, please visit our website at <http://www.terry.uga.edu/diversity/> or contact Mr. Randy Grooms at rgrooms@uga.edu.
